Capacity Building on Beekeeping

Capacity building training in Beekeeping conducted

Goa Khadi and Village Industries Board (GKVIB) in association with Eco Kshatriya Foundation, a registered NGO of S.S. Dempo College of Commerce and Economics, Cujira, Goa headed by Dr. Cheryl Venan Dias organised and successfully completed a three day Capacity Building Training on Beekeeping for sixteen agriculturists and lay persons from across Goa from the 6th to 8th of November 2020. Eco Kshatriya Foundation started off by creating awareness about beekeeping in May 2020 and got registrations from ninety participants from all over Goa for the training. The participants were divided into four batches. The training kicked off with the first sixteen participants. The first two days were conducted in the S.S. Dempo College premises and included orientation and administrative details about the schemes available for persons interested to start this as a full time occupation, the participants were oriented by CEO of GKVIB Shri Panvelkar, the second day was theory and concepts of Apiculture and the resource person was Shri Melwyn D'souza who is a master trainer and involved in beekeeping for more than two decades. The participants were taught about the species of bees, their life stages, and the equipment and accessories that are used while tending to bee boxes. The third day was a practical immersion at Savio's Farm, Socorro Village where the participants got a hands on experience on how to check the frames from the brood box and identify the queen, worker and drone bees. All participants got an opportunity to personally work on the bee boxes and conduct the routine maintenance on the boxes. These sessions are ongoing and will be organised in batches for interested participants.

awareness and gender equality for community development, which was organised by Govt. College of Arts, Science & Commerce on the 29th February 2020.

Our students, Miss Sheena Remedias and Miss Sangeeta Samanta won the first place for the Oral presentation competition. The two girls spoke about the good habits that should be inculcated at a young age. They won the heart of the audience with suggestions they gave for changing perceptions in schools or at home by parents to deal with the issue of gender stereotype. They boys did their best and their participation was highly appreciated by the organizers.
